

FIVE MONTHS IN ONE ISSUE

What actually changed for owners

Since April, VinFast announced three US dealerships, none open yet, put a refreshed VF8 on Canadian and US floors without announcing it, launched two models we cannot buy, changed its global CEO, sold its Vietnamese factory, and was sued by North Carolina. The VF7 did not arrive. This issue sorts signal from noise and lists what your Board is pressing for.

We are owners writing for owners. AVO is not a dealer and not a press office. When the news is good we say so, and when it is not we say that too.

TIME-SENSITIVE FOR OWNERS

CHECK YOUR VERSION

Book your update at a service center. Over-the-air has not started.

There has been no official OTA rollout in North America. VinFast has pushed updates over the air to some owners as testing; everyone else needs a service visit. Builds run in three separate families, which is causing confusion.

YOUR CAR	CURRENT NA BUILD	HOW TO GET IT
VF8 Gen 1 (2023–2025)	8A.3.13.0 (Software 13)	Free under warranty. California: FixLane . Canada: NAPA NexDrive . Elsewhere: your dealer.
VF8 Gen 1.5 (2026 on)	8C.2.10.2	Your dealer. See page 2 for what this car changed.
VF9	9A.3.12.0	Your dealer. Whether this build is OTA ready is unknown . Ask, then tell us what they say.

8A, 8C and 9A are separate families, not different ages: a higher number in one says nothing about another. The retired 8A.3.12.1 is not worth chasing. FixLane and NexDrive are confirmed for Software 13; whether they also handle the 8C and 9A builds is not confirmed, so ask when you book.

What to do: Check your version under Settings > About, book what the table says, and post your model and version before and after in Discord #firmware-software. VinFast support: 1-833-503-0600 (US) / 1-833-503-0601 (CA).

DID YOUR CAR UPDATE ITSELF? TELL US THE SAME DAY. We want the build and the date. An OTA landing on an ordinary owner's car is major news here, and we will verify and publish it fast.

SAFETY RECALL

VF8 rollaway risk: Transport Canada 2026038

Affects 2023 to 2025 VF8. A software fault can release the parking pawl while the parking brake harness may corrode. Together, a parked vehicle can roll away. Free software update plus harness inspection; until then, park on level ground.

US owners: no matching NHTSA campaign exists. Do not assume you are unaffected: run your VIN at nhtsa.gov/recalls.

The VF7 Question

WE TOLD YOU IT WAS COMING. IT HAS NOT.

Our April issue reported VF7 homologation as essentially complete, production from end of April 2026, US deliveries later in the year. Five months on, the VF7 is not on the US or Canadian lineup: no page, no configurator, no reservations.

On the Q1 call, management said only that it plans "to bring the next generation of vehicles to the U.S. market," without naming the VF7, and called North America and Europe a "modest share of total volumes this year."

We reported April's timeline in good faith. It did not happen, and we will not paper over it. A firm VF7 answer is the Board's top ask for the next meeting, whatever that answer turns out to be.

The VF8 Refresh Nobody Announced

A REFRESH OF THE NA PLATFORM · AVO ORIGINAL REPORTING

Members in Canada taking delivery of 2026 VF8s began reporting differences from earlier cars, starting with a revised camera harness. We have documented it in Discord ever since, and the car is now on US dealer floors too. Three things to be clear about first.

"GEN 1.5" IS OUR WORD

It is AVO shorthand for the 2026-onward North American build. It is not a VinFast name and nothing has been announced. We coined it because the changes are real and the paperwork says otherwise.

SAME PLATFORM, REFRESHED

This is a refresh of the VF8 platform already sold here. The complete redesign revealed May 21 and launched in Vietnam is a different vehicle on a new platform: shorter, lighter, 12.9-inch screen, FSD suspension. That car has not come to North America.

ON PAPER, NOTHING CHANGED

VinFast Canada's 2026 spec matches 2024 and 2025: 87.7 kWh, Eco 349 hp / 412 km, Plus up to 402 hp / 378 km, 10 to 70% in under 31 min. Every difference below is a production change.

NEW AND IMPROVED

New ADAS system with instant-on 360 cameras. The 360 software moved off the ADAS unit onto the infotainment head unit, with four cameras wired directly to it rather than the old split arrangement where one backup camera fed the head unit and another fed ADAS. Members report the view is ready in roughly 10 to 15 seconds, essentially as soon as the screen is.

Ultrasonic parking sensors moved from the bumpers up onto the fenders. A member reports this ends the false beeping when reversing on an incline.

Auto hold now needs a deliberate firm press on the brake pedal rather than engaging eagerly. That means a quicker launch from a routine stop, and a surprise if you drive it like an earlier VF8.

Members who have driven both report quicker throttle response and a smoother ride, though those are impressions, not measurements. The head-up display is retained.

REMOVED

Rear ventilated seats on the Plus.

The multi-colour V charging light.

Front fog lights.

An assortment of software functions, including trip button options and the ability to exit the turn-signal camera view.

Firmware. Gen 1.5 runs its own build family at 8C.2.10.2. See the build table on page 1.

Model-year labelling is inconsistent. A 2026 Plus in Canada appears to correspond to a 2027 Eco in the US. Important for shoppers: a car badged 2027 on a US lot right now is this refresh, not the Vietnam redesign. Members have already been caught out by that. We are asking VinFast for one clear model-year designation per market, because buyers cannot compare cars they cannot name.

The refreshed car is not a like-for-like price match

A member's dealer quote on a 2027 VF8 Eco showed an MSRP roughly $3,000 above the outgoing 2025 Eco before dealer discount. We are not printing the lease payments from it: one dealer, one state, one month, and lease terms move monthly anyway.

The durable point is that the refresh is not priced the same as the car it replaces, so compare window stickers rather than monthly payments, and do not assume a quote you saw in a group chat applies to your state. Send us your quotes and we will build a real comparison.

RUMOR · RELIABLE SOURCE A US rollout timeline for the 2027 cars. Relayed by a board member on September 5 and unannounced by VinFast. We are printing it because the source is reliable and it is the only forward schedule anyone has: Sep 2026, 2027 VF8 Eco · Oct 2026, 2027 VF8 Plus and 2027 VF9 Eco · Nov 2026, 2027 VF9 Plus.

Note what that implies: the VF9 gets a 2027 refresh too, and we have no change list for it at all. If you see a 2027 VF9 on a lot, photograph the window sticker and post it.

No recall covers this. There is no VF8 camera recall in the Transport Canada or NHTSA databases, and both open campaigns, the parking pawl and EPB harness recall 2026038 and the earlier LKA/ADAS recall, are scoped to 2023 to 2025 only. A harness revision on the new build would be warranty driven, not a safety campaign.

Help us finish this. If you have a 2026 or 2027 car, post to the Discord thread: door jamb build date and the 10th VIN character · camera harness part numbers from a service quote or parts catalogue · photos of the rear camera mount and tailgate grommet routing · ADAS and MHU versions as delivered. 2024 and 2025 owners are just as useful: if a late-build 2025 shows the same part numbers, this is a production-week change and the model-year label is coincidental, which we cannot yet rule out.

A Store Closed While Three Were Announced

NORTH CAROLINA · FROM AN OWNER LETTER A MEMBER FORWARDED US

VinFast wrote to owners that Leith VinFast in Cary, North Carolina closed on September 30, calling it a decision to "transition our Raleigh-Durham area retail location." Holman, the dealer group, called it "the difficult decision to close all operations" and "a strategic shift in our business priorities." The two accounts disagree about whose decision it was, and we will not pretend to know.

What replaced it matters more. Johnson VinFast in Durham is a service and parts center, not a sales point. Its own site calls it "the new Johnson VinFast Service & Parts Center for RDU." Warranty and service continue in the Triangle. Buying a VinFast there does not. VinFast has named North Carolina a target state for new dealers; its only store there closed thirteen days after the company announced three others.

If you had an open repair order, warranty claim, or parts order with Leith, confirm in writing that it moved to Johnson. Holman points owners needing service records to Land Rover Raleigh, with proof of ownership and photo ID.

Not a closure: Sunroad VinFast on the dealer locator is the former San Diego VinFast. Same group, same location, new name.

Three New Dealerships, and What They Do Not Fix

ANNOUNCED SEPTEMBER 17, 2026

Redondo Beach, CA

Franchise agreement signed. Sales, maintenance, warranty, and aftersales for VF8 and VF9 once it opens.

Tustin, CA

A second Orange County point, in a region that already had the densest coverage in the country.

Philadelphia, PA

The only one of the three outside California, adding a Pennsylvania point to the existing East Coast network.

None of the three is open yet. VinFast's September 17 release said operations would begin in September. As of press time they have not opened and no opening dates have been published. Read the map before the press release: two of the three went to California, which already had the densest coverage in the country, and nothing was added anywhere in Canada, where our membership skews heavily. One existing store closed in the same window, which is the subject of the preceding page.

VinFast says it "continues to identify, evaluate, and engage with potential partners in additional U.S. locations," and named California, Florida, Texas, and North Carolina as target states on the Q1 call. That is the fourth consecutive period we have heard language of this kind. We are asking for a dealer and service map with dates on it, so owners can plan instead of hope.

Is VinFast Staying in North America?

THE QUESTION MEMBERS ASK US MOST

We get asked this constantly, and it deserves a straight answer instead of reassurance. The honest answer is that we do not know, and neither does anyone posting confidently either way. Here is the evidence in both directions.

REASONS FOR CONCERN

North America and Europe together are a "modest share of total volumes," per the Q1 call, and no North America sales figure has been disclosed in two quarters. The VF7 did not arrive. The North Carolina plant is in litigation and not operating before 2028. Franchise coverage is still absent across most of the continent, and the VF8 refresh reached dealers with no announcement at all.

REASONS AGAINST

AVO members tracking import records have documented fresh VinFast shipments arriving at US ports beginning in August 2026. New inventory is being built and shipped here, which directly answers the most common version of this rumor. Add three new franchise agreements, a CPO program carrying a 10-year transferable warranty, continued purchase incentives, a refreshed VF8 homologated and delivered to US and Canadian dealers, and a court fight to keep the NC site rather than walk away. On September 23, chief investment officer Chien Nguyen told BloombergNEF the company wants to "rethink and reset our brand with the US customer" and is "looking to refresh our product portfolio in the US." That is words, not dates, but it is the first thing close to an answer.

Where AVO stands. We are not going to tell you it is fine, and we are not going to amplify a rumor. Note that the import-record work above is our own: members went and checked, rather than arguing from vibes. That is the standard we want to hold. We are also asking VinFast, in writing and on the record, for a North America commitment statement covering parts supply, warranty servicing, and software support, with a stated horizon. We will publish the answer, or publish that we did not get one.

MED	Phone as a Key + Energy & Charging Insights Smartphone-based vehicle access, detailed battery and charging analytics	No public commitment or release note found.
LOW	Remote Heated Features + Driver Profiles Remote pre-conditioning of heated seats and steering, saved driver profiles	No public commitment or release note found.

No announcement is not the same as a refusal, and some of this could land quietly, in a firmware release or in the VF8 refresh now on dealer lots. Spot one of these in a release note or on a refreshed car? Post it in Discord and we will verify it.

RUMOR Battery preconditioning, delivered over the air, later this year. Reported by members off a community review rather than announced by VinFast. We rate the source as trustworthy and the claim as unconfirmed, and we will not call it real until it appears in a release note. Note the catch: OTA delivery has not officially rolled out here (page 1), so the timing deserves extra caution even if the feature is real.

Corporate Watch

THE ONLY QUESTION THAT MATTERS: WHO STANDS BEHIND YOUR WARRANTY

We are not stock analysts and none of this is investment advice. We track it for one reason: a 10-year warranty, a parts pipeline, and a service network are only as good as the company behind them.

A US bus business

OCT 5, 2026

VinFast announced a US electric bus business at the APTA expo in Chicago and put up a page at vinfastauto.us/ebus headlined "Proven in Vietnam. Built for America." The Vietnam half holds up: roughly 2,000 VinFast electric buses are in service there. Read the timeline before the headline: deliveries to US customers are expected in Q1 2028, sold through NexMove, a joint venture of Transportation Management Services and Zeem Solutions, on an as-a-service model. It adds nothing to the dealer or service network your car uses. We note the contrast anyway: a commercial product two years out has a US page and a sales contact, and the VF7 has neither.

New global CEO

SEP 12, 2026

Founder Pham Nhat Vuong stepped down as CEO of VinFast Global. Pham Nhat Quan Anh, his son and Chairman since May 2026, takes over as CEO of VinFast Global and Chairman and CEO of VinFast Vietnam. At GSM, Pham Thu Huong stepped down as Chairman. Vuong remains the company's financial backstop personally, which matters more to owners than the title change does.

Asset-light pivot

MAY 12, 2026

VinFast sold its Vietnamese manufacturing subsidiary (VFTP) for about US$530 million, keeping R&D, brand, and sales in house and buying vehicles from the new owner under a long-term supply agreement. India and Indonesia plants are unaffected. The North Carolina site was not part of this deal.

North Carolina, in court

MAY–SEP 2026

NC Attorney General Jeff Jackson sued VinFast in May 2026 to reclaim the Chatham County megasite and roughly $80 million in incentives already paid, saying the company "agreed to build a factory and create jobs for North Carolinians" and "didn't do either." VinFast filed an 80-page rebuttal in September disputing default and blaming state interference. VinFast has said plant operations "won't begin until at least 2028." A contractual deadline of 1,750 jobs and $500M invested by December 31, 2026 can trigger a state buyback.

Q1 and Q2 2026

JUN 8 / SEP 19, 2026

First-half deliveries reached 128,662 vehicles, up 78%, and Q2 revenue of about US$1.34 billion beat estimates. The company still loses money every quarter and reported $2.6 billion in available liquidity, most of it undrawn credit and personal grants from Pham Nhat Vuong rather than cash from selling cars. Neither quarter disclosed a North America number. The growth is real and it is happening in Asia.

Two Launches You Cannot Buy

WHERE THE DEVELOPMENT CAPACITY IS GOING

VIETNAM ONLY VF Wild finally goes on sale, as a range extender

VinFast launched the production VF Wild pickup on September 19, 2026, two and a half years after the CES 2024 concept. Note what changed: it is a range extender, not a battery electric. Pricing is 860 million VND, roughly US$33,000, with pre-orders September 25 to 30.

What it means for you: nothing concrete. The launch is Vietnam only. VinFast has announced no North American timing, pricing, homologation, or intent for the VF Wild. If you have seen it described as coming to the US, that traces back to the 2024 concept reveal, not to this launch.

ANNOUNCED SEP 19, 2026 · CONCEPT SHOWN CES 2024

SOFT HINT VF2 microcar, and the closest thing to a North America signal

VinFast launched the VF2 on July 5, 2026 in Vietnam at about US$7,200: four seats, 40 hp, an 18.3 kWh battery, and a 50 mph top speed.

In September, VinFast Canada floated bringing it west, saying the VF2 "would not be entirely out of place" in North America and Europe. That is deliberately loose language, not a commitment, and there is no date, price, or homologation plan behind it.

The positioning is the interesting part. At 50 mph the VF2 clears the low-speed-vehicle ceiling that confines things like the Fiat Topolino to private roads, making it a real alternative to golf carts in planned communities.

THE PRACTICAL COLUMN

CANADA New federal rebate: VF8 qualifies for $5,000

iZEV paused in January 2025 and was formally ended in October 2025. Its replacement, the Electric Vehicle Affordability Program (EVAP), offers up to $5,000 for BEVs on purchases and leases from February 16, 2026, with the program formally starting April 1, 2026. There is a $50,000 final transaction value cap for non-Canadian-built vehicles.

VinFast Canada confirmed in March that the VF8 qualifies. Provincial programs stack on top and vary widely, so check Transport Canada's current page rather than any figure quoted in a group chat. We have not seen VF9 eligibility confirmed, and its price likely exceeds the cap. Ask your dealer in writing before you sign.

SOURCES: TRANSPORT CANADA · VINFAST CANADA, MAR 2, 2026

US + CANADA Certified Pre-Owned, in both markets

VinFast launched a US CPO program on July 1, 2026 covering VF8 and VF9: a 105-point inspection, CARFAX report, and the balance of the 10-year / 125,000-mile transferable warranty. It started in nine states: AL, CA, CT, FL, IL, IN, LA, MD, TX.

Canada has one too, which we previously implied it did not. Same inspection and CARFAX, with the unused balance of the 10-year / 200,000 km warranty, initially in BC, Ontario, and Quebec: vinfastauto.ca/en/vinfast-certified-pre-owned. A member counted three CPO cars at Oakville this month.

VinFast has since added CPO financing; the rate moves, so check current terms. For existing owners the relevant question is resale, and a manufacturer-backed channel with a transferable warranty should help. We say should: it is nine states and a few months old, with no resale data yet. If you sell or trade a VF8 or VF9, tell us what you were offered.

Board Update

WHAT WE ARE WORKING ON

April's meeting with VinFast leadership was productive and the dialogue remains open. Since then we focused on follow-through rather than publishing. That was our mistake, and this issue is the correction. We are committing to a regular newsletter cadence and to posting board minutes to the site.

Where to take a stalled warranty or service case. If VinFast Customer Support is not resolving it, submit it to the VF Warranty Service Survey at vinfastowners.org/warranty-survey.html, run jointly by AVO and VFFS. It also covers rental and loaner compensation, a problem largely confined to California during the RepairWise transition and since mostly fixed, so a case still sitting unpaid is exactly what we want to see. Open a case with VinFast first, because the form asks for your case number, then add the last four of your VIN, your model, your service center, how long you have been down, and the details.

The admin team reviews every submission. Not all cases are escalated, and prioritization is based on severity, so treat it as a queue rather than a guarantee. It has already worked, including a VF9 backordered part case out of Mississauga, Ontario. For anything that is not warranty or service, use report-issue.html.

Signal, Noise, and FUD

HOW TO CHECK A CLAIM BEFORE YOU ACT ON IT

As VinFast news picks up, so does the noise. Some of it is real owners with real problems, and those deserve fast resolution. Some of it is recycled, undated, or posted in waves by accounts with no history outside VinFast threads. Both land in the same feed, which is the problem. Fear, uncertainty, and doubt spread maliciously make legitimate complaints harder to triage, they slow the cases that deserve priority, and they steer prospective owners away from the people who could help them.

This is not a request to go easy on VinFast. This issue spends most of its pages on a missed launch, a recall, a lawsuit, and an open question about the company's commitment here. Criticism backed by specifics is the most useful thing an owner community produces. These checks tell that apart from noise and cut both ways: a rumor you like is still a rumor, which is why every item here carries a source and a date.

1 · Check the account, not just the post

A new account, no history outside VinFast threads, or the same wording across several groups within hours. That is the clearest single tell.

2 · Look for checkable detail

Real reports carry specifics: model, model year, region, dealer, dates, case number. Claims that stay vague usually stay vague because there is nothing behind them.

3 · Spot the recycled review

Much of what circulates traces back to a handful of 2023 reviews of early VF8 City Edition cars, several model years and many firmware releases ago.

4 · Watch for the solved problem, recycled

Rental reimbursement delays were real, but they were concentrated in California around the RepairWise spin-up, now FixLane. Owners elsewhere in the US and Canada were never in that transition. VinFast has largely resolved it. Recycling it as a current, continent-wide failure is the pattern. Still unpaid? File it, above.

5 · The "12V and fuses" tell

An account whose first answer to every reported problem is disconnect the 12V or pull a fuse is not helping. Firmware has resolved most early-car faults, and those two moves often mask a problem that returns worse later. Call support first: 1-833-503-0600, staffed 24/7.

Have a real problem? File it.

A post gets buried. A filed case gets a paper trail. For an unresolved warranty, service, or rental compensation case, use vinfastowners.org/warranty-survey.html with your VinFast case number.

WHERE BRINGING A VINFAST IS WELCOME

Coffee with VinFast · Oakville, Ontario

CONFIRMED · FRI OCT 16

A member is organizing a coffee meetup at the Oakville VinFast dealership, which is hosting and sponsoring it. VinFast staff plan to attend to talk through coming updates, which build your car should be on, and take questions. Given where the firmware picture stands on page 1, that second item is the reason to go.

Bring someone. The dealership has opened the invitation beyond current owners to friends and family who are considering a VinFast, and staff will be on hand to set up test drives in the latest models. If you have been talking someone's ear off about your car, this is the night to bring them.

Friday October 16, 6:00 PM. Watch #local-communities for the address and RSVP. The only event on our calendar with VinFast staff in the room.
